All authors must read, sign, and date the following publisher agreement. The completed form must be submitted to the Editor-in-Chief of the journal.

1. Copyright Ownership and License to Publish

The author(s) retain the copyright of their submitted and published manuscript. In signing this agreement, the author(s) grant UTHM Publisher the right of first publication, along with a non-exclusive license to publish, reproduce, display, and distribute the article in any form, format, or media (print and digital). The author(s) also grant UTHM Publisher permission to reproduce, recreate, translate, extract or summarize, and to distribute and display in any forms, formats, and media. 3. Author Warranties and Originality

The author(s) warrant that the submitted work is original and does not infringe upon any existing copyright, trademark, patent, statutory right, or proprietary right of any third party. The corresponding author(s) confirm they have obtained written consent from all co-authors for submission to this journal. The author(s) agree that the submitted manuscript has not been previously published, submitted for publication elsewhere, or is under consideration for publication elsewhere in any language. If the manuscript includes copyrighted material from other sources, the author(s) warrant that they have obtained the necessary written permissions from the respective copyright holders.

4. Conflict of Interest and Authorship

The author(s) confirm they have made substantial contributions to the conception, design, data acquisition, analysis, or interpretation of the work and have reviewed and approved the final manuscript. The author(s) declare any commercial affiliations (e.g., patents, licenses, equity interests, consultancies) that could pose a conflict of interest have been fully disclosed. The author(s) agree to make relevant materials and data available upon reasonable request by the editor or UTHM Publisher, subject to applicable laws and ethical guidelines.

5. Ethical Compliance

The author(s) assume full responsibility for ensuring their research complies with all applicable laws and ethical guidelines, including obtaining informed consent for human subjects research and obtaining approval from the appropriate animal ethics committee for animal research.
